THE HANGAR

"The happiest years of your life are those you spend in school." How often we have heard those words, but not until we have reached the end of our school years do we begin to realize its meaning.

And how the school building itself adds to those years of enjoyment. Hardly an evening goes by without some social group meeting in the school house. In the middle of winter, the wide halls ring with cheers from the basketball games in the gym. In the spring, a hush falls over the halls as the classes present their annual plays. And think of the many evenings spent in the building practicing for the game or rehearsing for the play. Each class holds its own party in the building some time during the year. The highlight of the season for the upper two classes is the Junior-Senior Prom which always takes place in the auditorium.

Yes, any time you enter the school building, from early morning 'til late at night, you will always hear the hum and bustle of activity in some room or floor.

To The Seniors:

In 1936, a graduating class in a Colorado high school selected as its motto "W.P.A. Here We Come!" It was intended to be humorous, but lying behind that humor was a serious attempt to face a rather unpromising future without revealing their real concern about that future. Where could they get jobs? How could they make a living? How could they get a college education? Older folks referred to them as the lost generation.

In just eight short years, the entire outlook has changed. The national income in 1943 was three and one-half times that of 1933. Excellent jobs are offered daily, with few applications. Your world too, is chaotic. The very foundations of a stern civilization have been shaken. Boys face immediate induction, and they are more than willing to do their duty. Girls have entirely different personal problems—but none-the-less critical and upsetting problems.

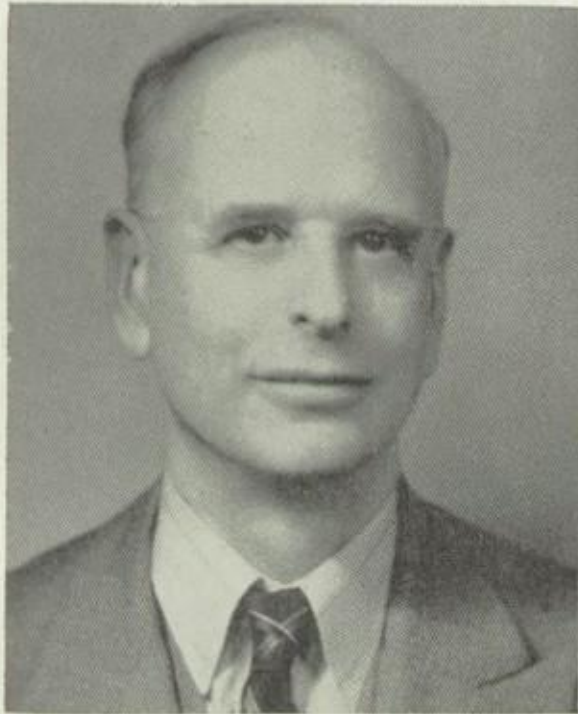

What happened to those boys and girls of the last decade? Well, for one thing, they have written the finest and most heroic chapters in American history. They're the boys who defended Wake Island; who captured Guadalcanal; who stormed Tarawa and Sicily and Anzio. They're the girls who are in the Wacs, the Waves, the Spars, the Nurse Corps. They're the boys and girls who have helped to astound the world—including ourselves—with an undreamed-of war production. They're the boys and girls who just a few short years ago idled at the corner drug store, rode around in jalopies, and excelled in jitterbugging. That's the outfit we said were soft—and lazy. They have done and will continue to do all right for themselves.

There are good times and evil times in every generation. Maybe you who graduate in evil times are blessed rather than cursed. You may rest assured that you will have your chance. Every generation has. On the whole, you will be the best trained generation the world has ever known—in any land and in any era. The future course of civilization will reflect your thinking and your efforts. The "depression kids" have set a splendid example. We await your record with hope and expectation.

We took off on our first flight with James Gohl as our pilot; John Gillespie as our co-pilot; Eleanor Steinbaugh, navigator; and Helen Stubbs, bombardier. Miss Esther Schultz was our instructor for this flight. On Jan. 24 we landed long enough to have a patriotic party in the hangar. In the spring we gathered at the park for a picnic.

We started our second flight with a new crew. We picked Richard Brooks for our pilot; Loren Kuenzli for our co-pilot; Suzanne Miller, navigator; and John Seim, bombardier. Our instructor for this flight was Miss Evelyn Neumeister. We held our party on March 27—in the hangar.

This was our third flight and we chose for our pilot, Albert Reber; co-pilot, Eugene Scheck; navigator, Patricia Rutter; and bombardier, Mary Lou Kuenzli. Our training was more complicated so we had two instructors, Miss Jean Golling and Miss Evelyn Neumeister. We had to earn some money so that we could give a prom for the 1943 bomber crew who were almost ready for their solo flight, so we gave a play, "Young April," on March 27. We held this prom on May 21 and held our own party on April 9.

Our heads are really in the clouds now. This is our last practice flight and tomorrow we are going to solo. For this all-important flight, we chose as our leaders, David Stansbery, pilot; Thomas Spellerberg, co-pilot; Suzanne Miller, navigator; and Irene Oberlander, bombardier. Our last instructors are Miss Erma Stearns and Mr. C. W. Assenheimer. We had our last party, one of our best, on Nov. 26. Since we are the ones to solo tomorrow, a prom was given in our honor on Dec. 17. The room was very cleverly decorated with a tall Christmas tree in the center and other seasonal decorations. Our play this year, "You Can't Take It With You," was given on March 31.

Everything we have done this year has brought us closer to our big moment—graduation. Yes, tomorrow we will have no instructors to help us. We will be on our own. We will be on our first solo flight.

The hustling Junior Class was much in evidence this year. They had charge of the refreshment stand at the home football and basketball games and the Juniors with trays of drinks were always a welcome sight at the basketball games.

Their class party was held in May and on April 21 they presented an excellent play,

"Peg O' My Heart." The Junior Class president, Edward Beard, was called to the armed forces in February and the vice-president, Lorene Kellermeyer was acting president for the rest of the school year.

The Juniors' sponsors were Miss Evelyn Neumeister and Miss Jean Golling.

1943 FOOTBALL RECORD

Upper 20—Richwood 0

The season's first game was well played by both teams. Upper's strong line and fast backfield were too much for the Richwood eleven who were unable to cross the Rams' goal line. The highlight of the game was a punt return of 63 yards by Balduf.

Upper 18—Ada 12

Upper, on the second road trip of the season, won from a highly favored Ada team on the Ohio Northern gridiron. The only ground the Bulldogs gained was through the air.

Upper 12—Bellevue 0

Upper's strong defense worked to perfection in this game with Bellevue. The Rams' opponents did not gain one first down during the first half. Bob Bowman and Clair Hile scored for the Rams.

Upper 28—Marysville 0

Upper traveled to Marysville to win easily over their opponents, scoring a touchdown in each quarter of the game. This was the fourth straight game in which the Rams' opponents failed to score.

Upper 18—Carey 12

Over 2,000 football fans crowded the Upper Sandusky football field to witness the annual Upper-Carey game. Again Upper's strong line proved the strong point of the Rams by holding Carey to a total of 1 yard gained by rushing. However, Carey was able to complete passes to the tune of two touchdowns. Upper's fast backs gained 231 yards and lost only 6.

The team finished the season in the same smooth-working style that characterized their work throughout the year.

Upper 0—Bucyrus 6

Upper journeyed to Bucyrus for their only defeat of the season. Bucyrus was able to complete passes but was not able to move far through the strong Upper line. Bucyrus scored late in the last quarter after taking four downs to make the last foot needed for a touchdown.

Upper 31—Crestline 0

The second home game proved to be a walk-away for the Rams. Crestline held the Rams scoreless during the first half, but after a pep talk by Coach Sampson at the half, the team really went to town, scoring 31 points in the second half. This was the highest score piled up by the Rams in the '43 season.

Upper 19—Calvert 0

The fourth home game of the season was played before a large Mother and Dad Day crowd. The Rams really had to fight to take this one. The local goal line was threatened three times, but Calvert could not force their way through the stalwart Upper line.

Upper 27—Willard 6

Upper's strong line was especially effective in this game, holding a heavy Willard team to six first downs. Willard scored the first touchdown on the local gridiron made by the Rams' opponents with three passes in the fourth quarter.

Reserve players consisted entirely of freshman and sophomore boys. The boys struck some tough opponents this year and their record was not quite as good as the varsity. In almost every case the reserves were playing against teams with junior and senior boys. Coach Shafer turned out some good players who will be valuable on the varsity squad next year.

PEP BAND

This energetic group has been largely responsible for keeping the school spirit at basketball games throughout the season. The band played at all home games and their lively music added greatly to our enjoyment of the Rams' fine playing this year.

We are all proud of this group and hope that next year's pep band can be as full of vim and vigor as was this one.

—Pat Rutter

VARSITY U

The Varsity U was organized by Coach Sampson for the boys who earned a letter in a Varsity sport. Luncheon meetings were held twice a month. At these meetings there was always a guest speaker.

The highlight of the year was the football banquet at which Coach Paul Brown of Ohio State University spoke. This was followed by a Varsity U carnival held in the auditorium. At the conclusion of the basketball season the organization honored the varsity basketball players at a banquet attended by members of the team, their parents, and club members. Paul Gettys, superintendent and coach of Marseilles High School was the guest speaker. Player awards were presented to the following outstanding players of the season: Captain Tom Snyder, most valuable lineman; Charles Balduf, most valuable backfieldman; and Captain Bob Warner, most valuable basketball player.

The Senior Band, one of our most important musical organizations, under the direction of Mr. Assenheimer, did a wonderful job this year.

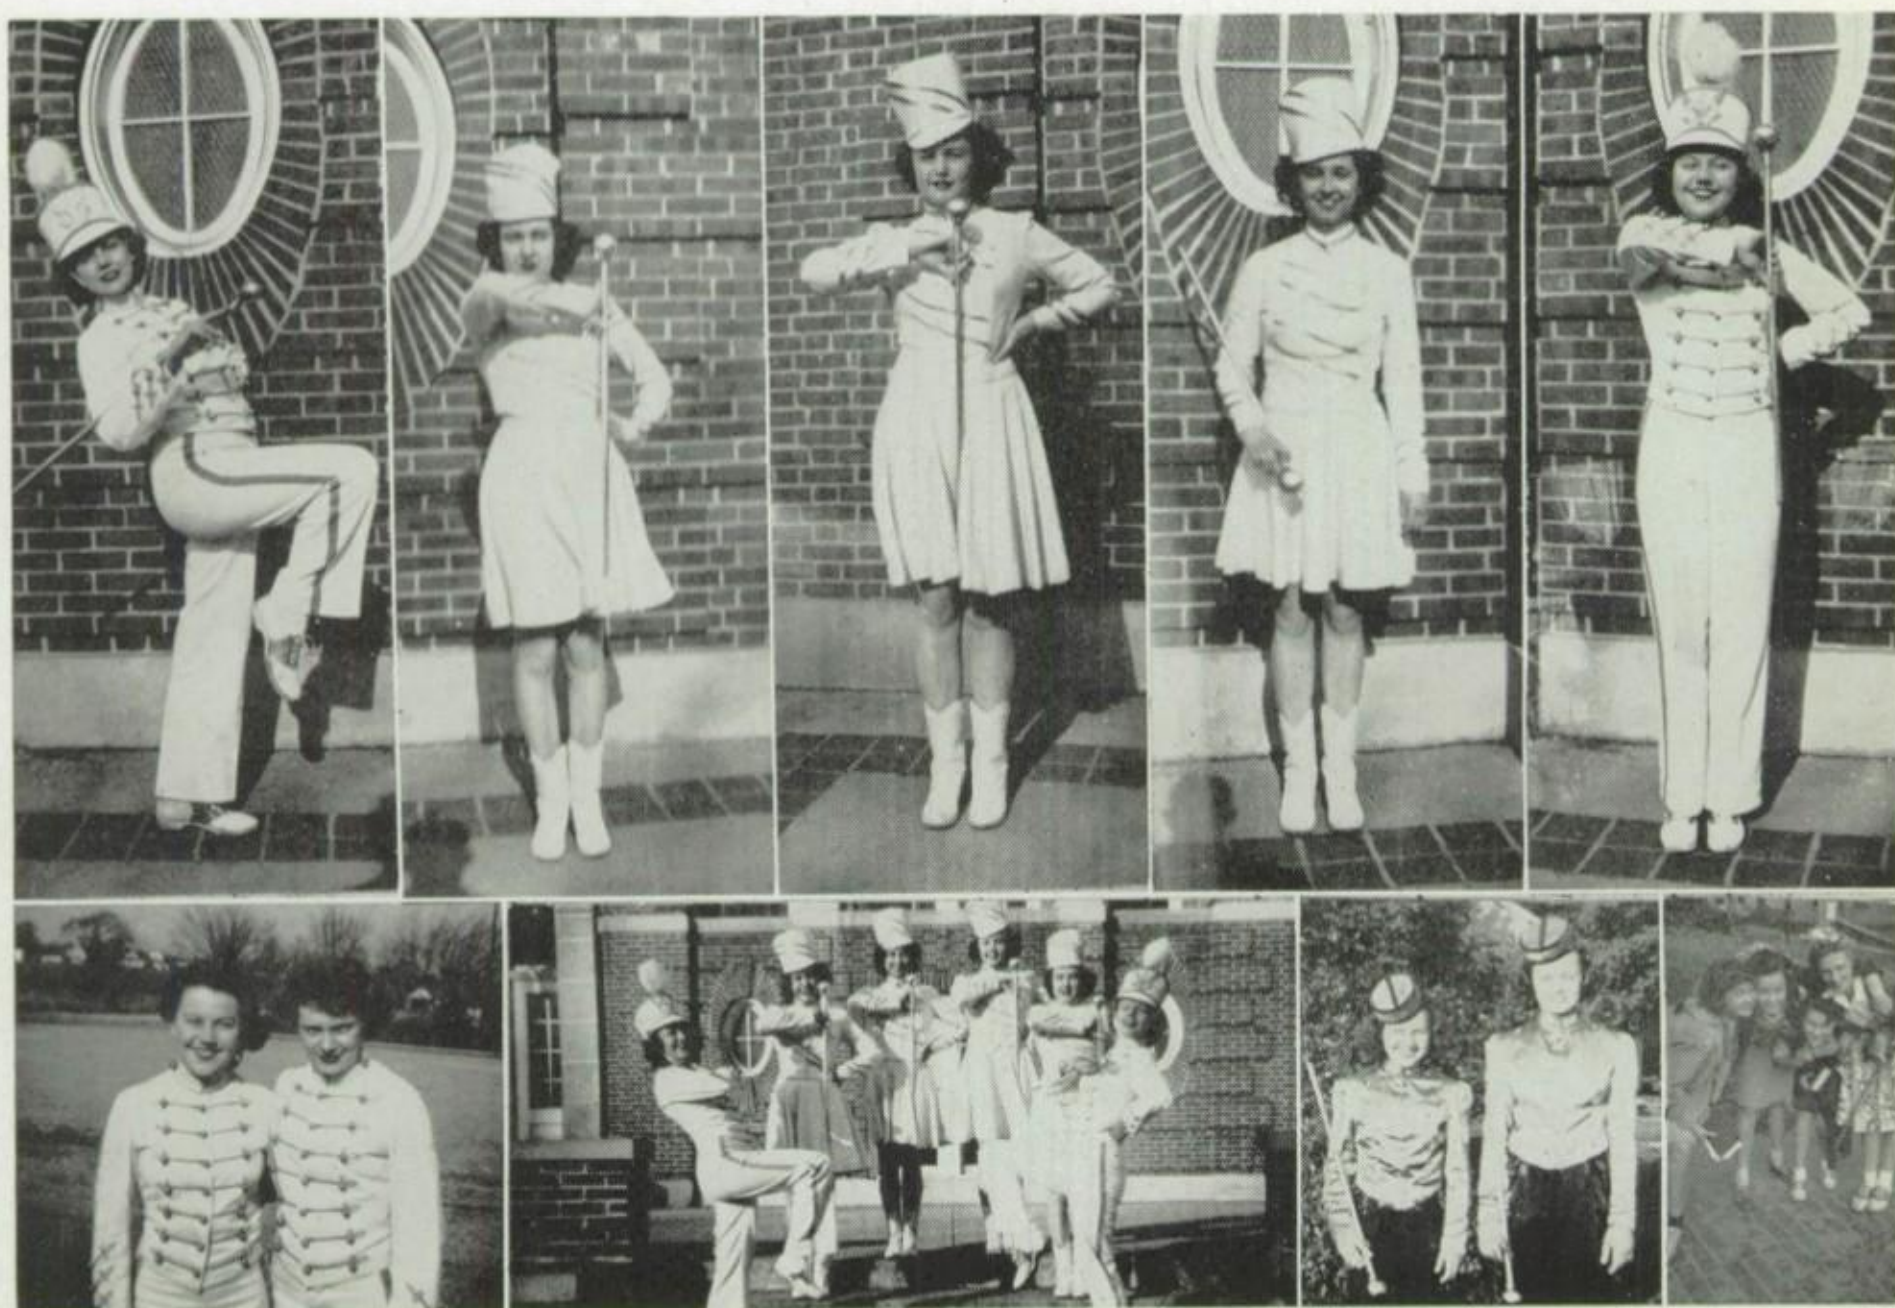

Because of war conditions, the band couldn't travel with the teams, but at home games it displayed many skillful maneuvers.

Our band was always ready and willing to give their services at civic affairs, and without this organization, we would be minus a great asset.

Mr. Assenheimer and this group have devoted much time and effort to make the band what it is, and we congratulate them on their great work.

—ROSIE McCLAIN

THE TWIRLERS

The twirlers, Phyllis Rossel, Mary Katherine Stansbery, Mary Lou Kuenzli, Mary Lou Gregory, Suzanne Miller, and Nancy Hagenmaier, were an important part of the band, and added much to it. Strutting ahead of the band in their crisp white uniforms, the six majorettes won the admiration of everyone.

For three years, they have worked, practicing with the band and leading it at games.

Their lively, quick high stepping and their rhythmically twirling batons, were the delight of all as they came across the field.

JUNIOR BAND

D. Busick, D. Carr, D. Crum, J. Denman, L. Everhart, H. Hale, B. Hehr, J. Hehr, D. Kellermeyer, P. Kimmel, F. Kinsley, D. Koehler, W. Koehler, R. Kreisel, K. Kuenzli, M. Lininger, T. Lucas, B. Main, J. Mason, R. Price, G. Smalley, R. Smalley, K. Smythe, A. Tschannen, W. Whitman, R. Will.

The Junior Band is composed of budding musicians from the junior high school who practice faithfully to achieve perfection. Although they make very few public appearances, they work as earnestly as if rehearsing for a concert.

They will soon fill the places vacated by the members of this year's graduating class, so we wish luck and success to these young musicians. We feel sure that they will strive to maintain the high standards set by bands of previous years.

—Pat Rutter

SWING BAND

R. Coons, saxophone and clarinet; M. Gabriel, piano; A. Hale, bass; J. Hale, saxophone and clarinet; A. Moser, trumpet; H. Pagnard, drums; T. Reber, saxophone and clarinet; J. Schultz, trombone; T. Spellerberg, vocalist; D. Stansbery, guitar; T. Vogel, trombone.

What high school student doesn't go for the dreamy music of the Swing Band, the "Rhythmairs?"

This lively group was always on hand to play for dances. Their music pulled many a dancer out of the balcony and onto the floor. The "Rhythmairs" have worked hard and late practicing for dances, and our hats are off to this fine band for their really swell music and for all the fun they've given us at dances.

—Rosie McClain

ORCHESTRA

Since the beginning of the war, our orchestra has not participated in events away from our own school, because of transportation difficulties. The orchestra has, however, entertained us at various chapel programs throughout the year.

The orchestra this year is somewhat smaller than it has been in the past but its members have worked together to produce the high quality of music which has always been a characteristic of this group. The members of the orchestra are as follows: VIOLINS: J. Seim, L. Kellermeyer, J. Seim, R. Swartz, E. Castanien, R. Ellis, R. Price, D. Swartz; VIOLA: J. Castanien; CELLO: R. Reamsnyder; BASS: A. Hale; PIANO: M. Gabriel; CLARINETS: J. Hale, M. Williams, T. Reber, P. Wagner; CORNETS: B. Shambaugh, A. Moser; TROMBONES: J. Schultz, T. Vogel; FRENCH HORNS: A. Martin, A. Stoker; DRUMS: T. Denman, H. Pagnard; OBOE: S. Rieser; BASSOON: F. Fleeman; FLUTE: C. McClain.

—Pat Rutter

SENIOR CHORUS

Three noon-hours weekly, beautiful music drifts through the halls of U. S. H. S. Yes, it's the melodious harmonizing of the Senior Chorus, under the direction of Mr. Assenheimer.

This chorus is one of the largest in our school's history and is also undoubtedly one of the best. The Chorus has sung several times at chapel programs and its members have given a good account of themselves at each of their appearances.

JUNIOR CHORUS

The Junior Chorus is an important organization because it gives the younger students a chance to study the fundamentals of music necessary to prepare them for Senior Chorus. Under the capable direction of Miss Esther Willoughby, they have worked hard this year and have participated in several musical programs.

The Junior Chorus should be praised for their efforts and interest in their work. They will be able to fill the places of graduating members of the Senior Chorus and continue their good work.

—Pat Rutter

GIRL RESERVES

The Girl Reserves were successfully guided through another year by their faithful advisers, Miss Hetzel and Miss Hull. They have had a fruitful year both socially and financially.

Their social activities, although not numerous, were outstanding. The outstanding features were a Mother-Daughter Tea and a Rabbit-Pheasant Supper given in conjunction with the Hi-Y. Their calendar for the year also included the annual Gypsy hike and the initiation and formal induction of members.

One of their purposes is to serve their community and their country. By selling war bonds and stamps during the noon hour the members strove to achieve this purpose.

The year's officers were: president, Sally Rieser; vice-president, Louise Cram; secretary, Phyllis Rossel; and treasurer, Mary Lou Kuenzli.

—Suzanne Miller

HI-Y

Under the leadership of Mr. Russel Wolfe, the Hi-Y engaged in various activities throughout the year. Because of the numerous other activities of the members, the club's actions were limited. The annual Rabbit-Pheasant Supper was held with the Girl Reserves with the Hi-Y providing the game and the G. R. the culinary skill. Initiation of a large group of sophomores raised the club's membership to fifty. Officers for the year were: president, Robert Bowman; vice-president, Stuart Hollanshead; secretary, Arthur Martin, and treasurer, Kenneth McKee.

—James Blaser

F. F. A.

Guided by Mr. John Borton, the Future Farmers of America engaged in a wide variety of activities. F. F. A. members participated in and won the Wyandot Co. Livestock Judging Contest and the intramural basketball tournament. The boys entered the Public Speaking and Parliamentary Procedure Contests and later in the year sent delegates to the State F. F. A. Convention. Club members exhibited their projects at the Wyandot County Fair in one of the largest displays ever featured by the local organization. For the first time in its history, the local F. F. A. was honored by having two members, Franklin McClain and Robert Clinger, elected State Farmers. Parents of the members of the group were honored at a Parent-Son Banquet.

Officers for the year were: president, George Moll; vice-president, Harold Gilliland; secretary, Richard Coons; treasurer, Eugene Plott; student adviser, James Leslie; and reporter, James Courtad.

—James Blaser

G. A. A.

The Junior and Senior G. A. A. is composed of 68 members.

The Senior G. A. A. officers are: president, Ruth Trautwein; vice-president, Joan Ulrich; secretary, Mary Lou Wall; and treasurer, Audrey Bowen. The executive committee is composed of Neva Graham, Reva Barth, Frances Henige, and Betty Carpenter.

Junior G. A. A. officers are: president, Janet Castanien; vice-president, Gladys Morrison; secretary, Rebecca Moll; and treasurer, Marylin McClain.

The G. A. A. has play nights during which they play basketball, volleyball, ping-pong, and shuffle board. During the summer months, they have bicycle and open road hikes. In May the G. A. A. has its annual May Day program at which the king and queen preside.

Through all these activities, Miss Helen Hull is their adviser and director, with Miss Mary Schmidt as associate.

—Dorothy Phillips

CHEERLEADERS

Who doesn't like to cheer—Upper High? That's a big mistake. With our cheerleaders to lead us at games and provide us with new snappy yells, we can do a fine job, but without them, we're sunk.

Not only were the cheerleaders on the job at all the games, but they were always on hand at Pep Rallies, and were always on the job building up the team's morale and the enthusiasm of the students.

Besides the senior cheerleaders, Joan Iams and Harriet O'Brien, there were five junior cheerleaders, Mary Louise Myers, Eloise Weiker, Wanda Vanatta, David Crum, and Richard Sterner, who lead the crowd during reserve games.

This gang has worked hard getting new cheers ready and practicing for games, and we really appreciated their work.

Thanks, kids—you were really swell!

—Rosie McClain

THE SENIOR PLAY

On March 31, the Senior Class presented the play "You Can't Take It With You" by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman.

The story of the play concerns a home-spun philosopher, who decided that life isn't made for work because, after all, you can't take money with you, and his rather eccentric family. His son-in-law, Paul Sycamore, manufactures fire-works. Mr. De Pinna, who came to the Sycamores eight years ago and hasn't left yet, is his able helper. Penny, Grandpa's daughter and Paul's wife, is a writer and an artist. Essie and Ed, their daughter and son-in-law, toe dance and play the bell lyre. Heart interest is provided by Alice, only member of the family who works, and Tony Kirby, her employer's son. Tony's Fifth Avenue father and mother complicate affairs. Boris Kolenkhov and the Grand Duchess Olga Katrina also enter the picture. Kolenkhov as Essie's dancing teacher and the Grand Duchess as a guest in the Sycamore household. Many hilarious moments are provided by Rheba and Donald, the negro servants in the Sycamore home. Other uproarious instances are provided by Henderson, the income tax collector, and several detectives.

THE JUNIOR PLAY

On April 21, the Junior Class presented the play "Peg O' My Heart" by J. Hartley Manners.

The play concerns the life and love of Peg O'Connell. Life is anything but peaceful when she comes to England to live with her aunt and cousins, the Chichesters, for Peg is continually breaking the conventions of the aristocratic family. Sir Gerald Adair, better known as Jerry, is the only person in the community who understands and sympa-thizes with her. Unknown to Peg, she is the heiress to a large estate, and the Chichesters, who have fallen into financial straits, are being paid to keep her. Returning from a dance to which she was forbidden to go, Peg prevents her cousin Ethel's going away with Christopher Brent, a married man. After she has received three proposals, Peg becomes engaged to Jerry. In the end, Peg's aunt and cousins realize that she is more their equal than they thought at first, and when the curtain falls, everyone is happy.

We, the Annual Staff of 1944, wish to pay tribute to these students of Upper High who are in the service of our country. By the time the Annual is published, there will probably be many more in the service; this list is the most complete available in March, 1944. We wish to express our appreciation to the friends and relatives of the men listed here for their aid and advice on compiling this Service Flag. Of the 400 men listed here, two have been killed in action and many wounded. We cannot praise them too highly nor can we ever repay them for the sacrifices they have made for us.
